Student Life Cycles Are . . .

Proof

Positive

Each student's life is a unique cycle of events. However, whether working, shopping, or just talking with close friends, the population of Chancellor High creates memories that last a lifetime.

While the Cross Country team prepares for the upcoming season, students John McGettigan and Susan Johnson learn how to make and spend a dollar.

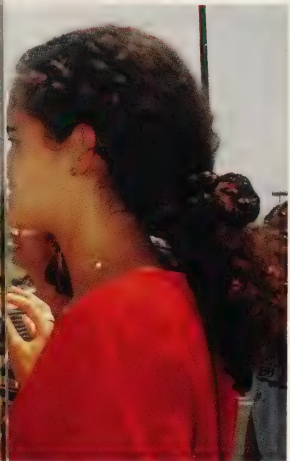

Summer Postive

Fun Brings Memories

Summer usually means the end of a school year and the coming of another. It is a time to take memorable vacations and just to have fun. Maria Mizelle has a thrilling time in Florida, while a group of Chancellor students and Mr. Keith have a learning yet exciting experience in Florence, Italy. Kevin Robbins helps paint a shed on the Eastern Shore as a mission of his youth group. Beth McClain, Lisa Gough, Jenny Gough and Melissa Wondree demonstrate how much fun summer can be.

Practices Produce . . .

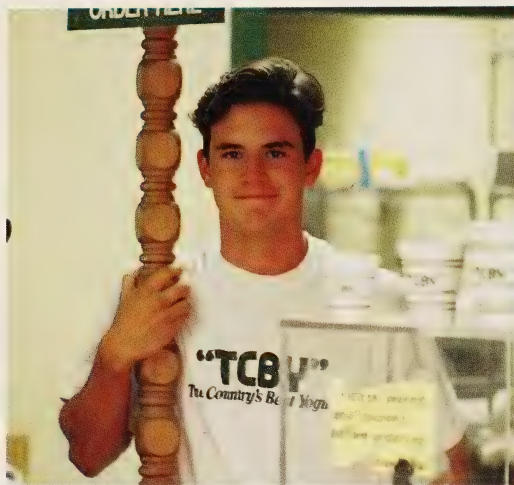

Practice can be very difficult but the Chargers' winning records have proven it successful. Chancellor students are very involved and dedicated to sports. The cheerleaders show how happy they are about being seniors while the band gets ready for competition. Brandi Coles and Lori Cramer practice dribbling and running to improve basketball skills while the football team practices their plays. The drill team and color guard rehearse their new dances.

Positive Outcome

Chancellor Students Achieve Positive Success

During the summer and throughout the school year, Chancellor students are busy working for local business.

Whether Working Or Playing

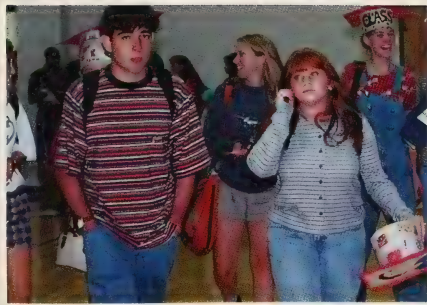

Whether spending a day working or shopping, Chancellor students enjoy a visit to the Spotsylvania Mall.

After the first pep rally, spirits were high. The seniors were judged the most spirited of all the classes. The cheerleaders attempted to make members of the football team kiss. Spirits stayed high into the night as an electrified crowd watched the Varsity Football team achieve a 38-6 victory over Louisa.

Chancellor High

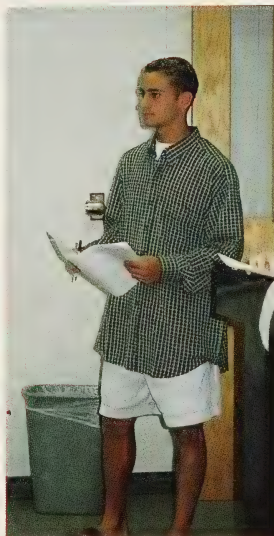

The School Year Begins . . .

Sean Dwyer and James Wahl show their spirit while Tiffany Reddick, Monique Few, and Darnell Alford arrive at school. Melissa Knowles stops at her locker while Noelle Stinchcomb and Elisha Turner are reunited on the first day of school.

On A Positive Note

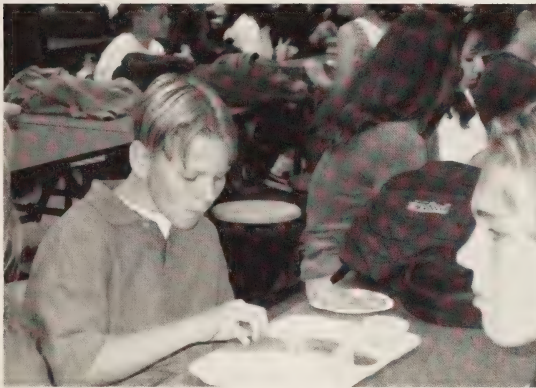

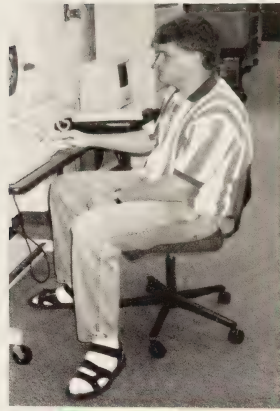

Junior girls smile excitedly at the camera, anticipating the school year ahead. Mike Phipps and Alice Winston walk to the Motivational Assembly together. A group of friends head to the front doors of the school and Daniel McRacken distributes spring supplements for the year-book during homeroom.

Smiles Are Proof . . .

Jessica Hadley takes time out to talk to a friend. Anne Marie Ivey waits for school to begin while Jaclyn Almodovar exits her bus, ready for another day of school. Portius Willis looks for a seat during an assembly.

Of A Positive Attitude

A sophomore homeroom awaits the eventful day ahead as Adam Aaronson works on a computer in the library. Marc Lux eats his lunch in the cafeteria. Before school, students gather in the commons area to be with friends while Jessica Schubert and Jennifer Georgevich walk downstairs together.

The First Weeks Of School . . .

Are Positively Exciting!

New Faces . . .

Prove To Be Friendly

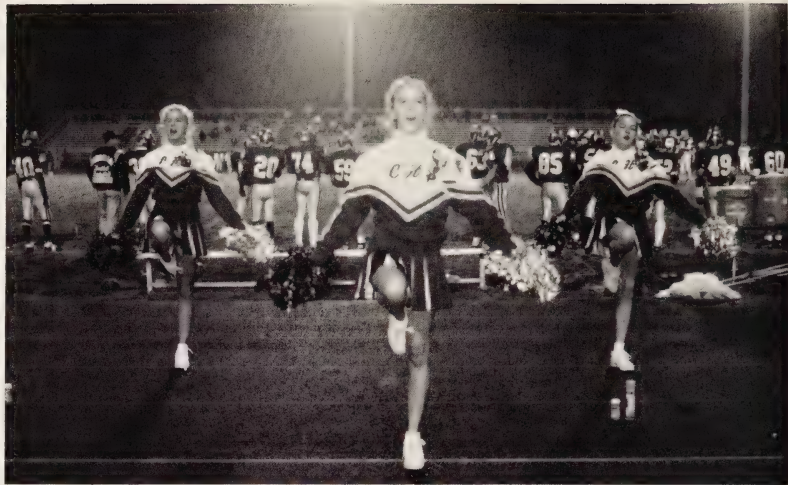

The new members of the faculty are welcomed to Chancellor. Tiffany Holt watches students walk to the cafeteria. Amanda Robinson smiles as she learns her way around the building while Samantha Ellis expresses her excitement over being with friends again as school starts.

Homecoming 1994

Homecoming begins with the selection of the theme by the S.C.A. This year's theme was "A Midsummer Night's Dream," inspired by the Shakespearean play. After the theme is selected, walls are decorated to fit the theme.

Each class, club, and organization may decorate a wall. Spirit week is included in the Homecoming activities. Each day of the week is assigned an activity students may participate in to show their spirit. Monday was Crazy Hair Day; Tuesday was Twin Day; Wednesday was 60's Day; Thursday was Hat Day; Friday was School Color's Day. Also on Friday, we had a Pep Rally which included a mini-parade and a kissing contest. The football game against Culpepper was Friday night, which included the full parade and the coronation of the King and Queen. Saturday night was the semi-formal dance.

Jessica Hill, Melanie Brueck, and Cindy Anderson cheer for the Chargers against Culpeper. The loss to Culpeper was the only thing that marred our celebration. The pep band proved spirited at the pep rally, where a group of seniors including Joanna Koehler and Doug Hanback marched in the mini-parade. Natalie Simpson wore Pippi Longstocking hair on Hair Day, and the Chargerettes debuted at the pep rally. Courtney Tillett and Chubby Culbertson dressed up for 60's Day, and sophomores Jeremy Higgs and Allison Marcus were announced at the pep rally. The overall wall competition was won by the Spanish Club, and Jeremy Painter and Nikki Davis wore hats on Hat Day.

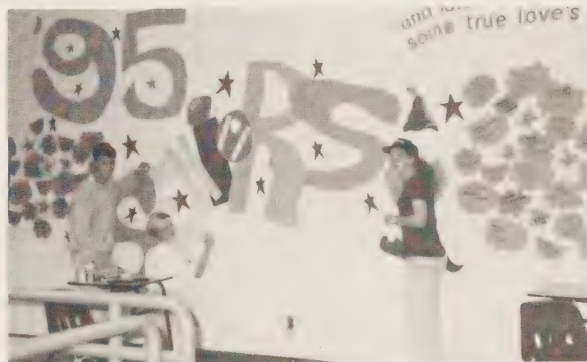

A Midsummer Night's Dream

This year's Homecoming Court was presided over by King Darnell Alford and Queen Brandi Moore. Senior girl attendants were Cindy Anderson, Tracy Graham, Natalie Simpson, and Anne Worsley. Senior boy attendants were Carlos (Chubby) Culbertson, Tony Esalih, Courtney Tillett, and Richard (Dickie) Weart. Junior attendants were Rhett Carlin, Kara Kembro, Shay Lassiter, and Jeremy Painter. Sophomore attendants were Sean Carter, Jeremy Higgs, Allison Marcus, and Ellen Rohrbaugh. Freshmen attendants were Deanna Hamn, Brad Haun, Jason Masi, and Carrie Mills.

The parade of floats followed the coronation at the football game. Winners of the float competition were as follows: Most Creative, Junior Class; Most Original, French Club; Best Interpretation of Theme, Sophomore Class; Best Overall, Freshman Class. These floats are shown in the class and organization sections. Though the senior class float did not win, their spirit is evident.

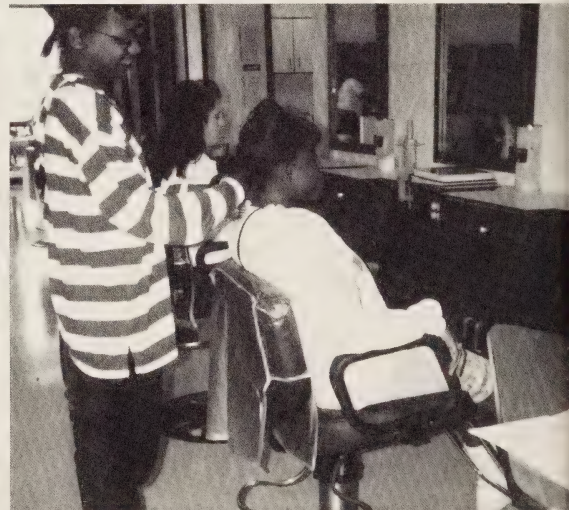

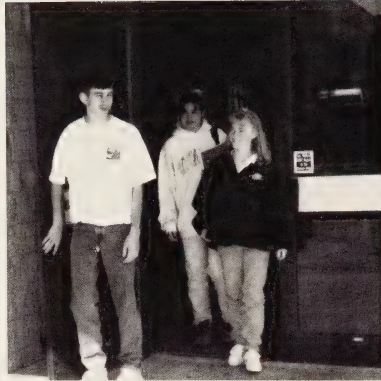

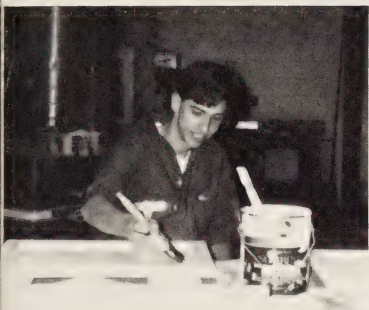

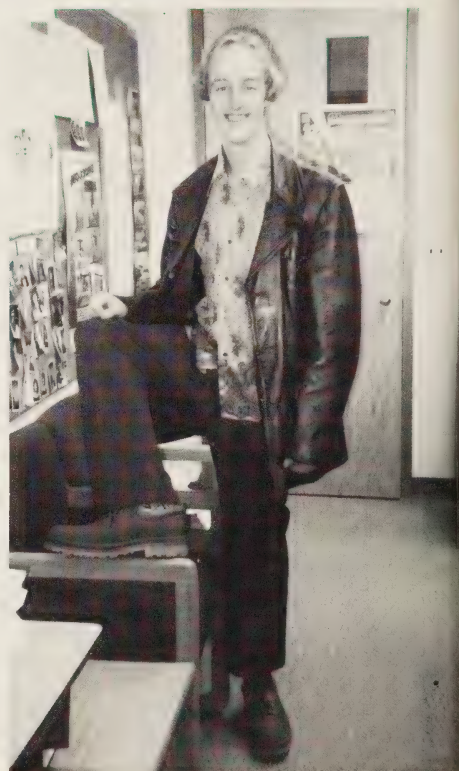

Spotsylvania Vocational Center

Everyday between seventy-five and eighty Chancellor students are bused to the Spotsylvania Vocational Center to attend one of the fifteen different technology oriented classes taught there. Ryan Norris, Liz Cannington, and Missy Hanson leave for their bus.

Sara Catlett, Aaron Coe and Robyn Webb show that a variety of vest are in along with Stephanie Fidler, Angelique Chokata and Mysti Pope. Alice Winston shows off her glamorous nails while Dirk Johnson lets us see his unique blue shoes.

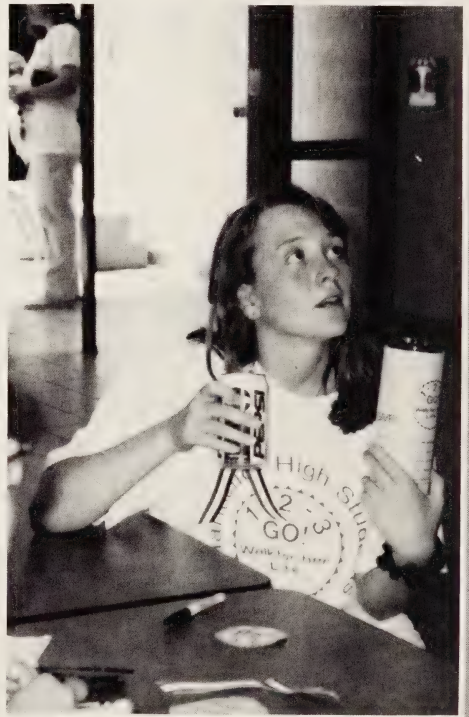

Faculty And Students Show

The passage of a year is often remembered by its holidays. For high school students, this is certainly true. Our school year ends near Memorial Day and begins after Labor Day. This Memorial Day saw over ninety Chancellor students donating their day off to walk in a fundraiser for a teacher, Mrs. Beverly Petrillo.

Election Day was a day off for students; however, many government students attended a rally for Senatorial candidate Oliver North. North lost this election to Robb.

Halloween was a fun filled celebration, and these Chancellor students show their spirit and their crazy side by dressing in costume for school.

Enthusiasm For The Holidays

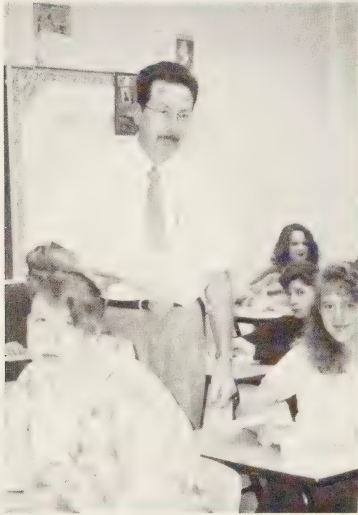

The Thanksgiving holiday proved to be truly a time of giving. Students gathered enough canned goods to feed one hundred families and donated forty-eight turkeys to the needy. These efforts were organized and set in motion by Mrs. Stello and the FHA.

One bright spot in the middle of a busy winter for Chancellor students is Christmas. This year we got to relax with an eleven day vacation.

Academics

Mr. Winston

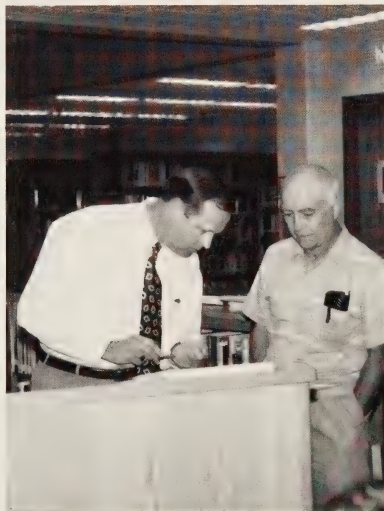

Mr. John Winston takes on what is perhaps the most difficult role in high school world: the role of high school principal. With the help of his staff, he comes up with the solutions that keeps Chancellor High together.

Having received his B.A. from Randolph-Macon College and his Masters from the University of Virginia, he is more than qualified to serve as principal. We here at Chancellor have been very fortunate to have such a great man and leader as our principal.

His caring attitude, experience, and dedication to his job are just a few of the reasons why we at Chancellor will miss Mr. Winston. In October, it was announced that Mr. John Winston was promoted and would, within a matter of weeks, be working from the Central Office as the County's Director of Secondary Education.

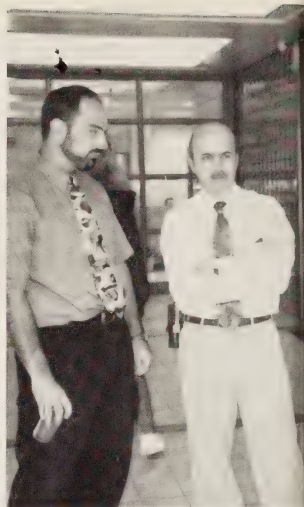

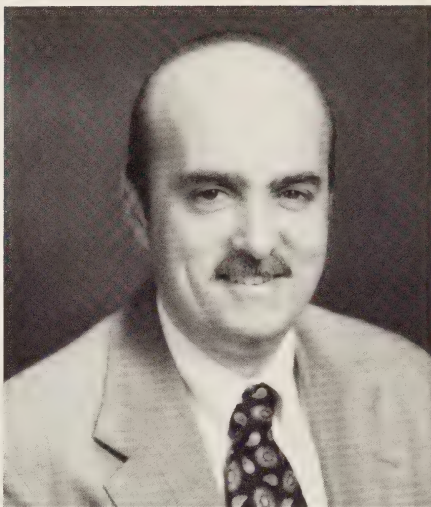

Even though we shall all miss Mr. Winston and his guiding leadership, we wish him success and happiness in his new position.

Mr. Marra

Mr. Marra works very hard as our Assistant Principal to keep the people of Chancellor High working together. He has been with us since the school opened in 1988.

Mr. Marra is very experienced in his field. He was the Principal of East Hardy High in West Virginia for 2 years. He later went on to become a Director of Education, then came on to be Assistant Principal at Spotsylvania High, before coming to us here at Chancellor. We are very glad to have Mr. Marra with as part of our school.

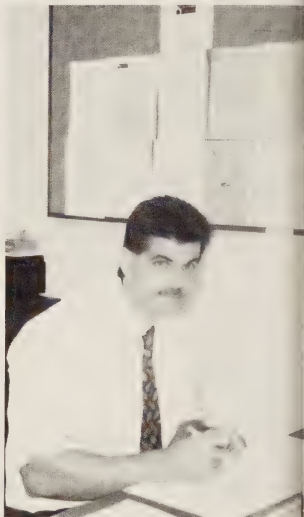

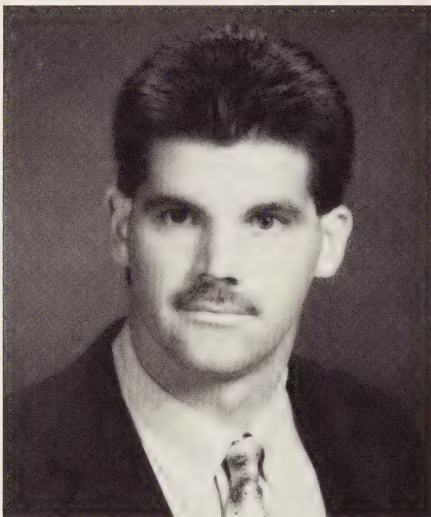

Mr. Hovanic

Whether working in his office or in the halls Mr. Hovanic is always there when students need help and encouragement.

Mr. Hovanic attended West Point Military Academy for two years. After suffering an unfortunate knee injury at jump school, he then transferred to East Tennessee State for two years to receive his Bachelor's Degree. Then he earned his Master's one year later, also from East Tennessee State. In 1992 he trained here at Chancellor to receive his degree as a full time Assistant Principal.

Mr. Hovanic taught at Courtland, Spotsylvania, and King George High Schools for three years before coming to us here at Chancellor in 1990. We are happy to have him with us.

Quarterback Matt Rothell gets the offense set for a play.

The Varsity football team had to learn about mortality this year. However their 2-8 record was not a true judge of how hard they worked. The team practiced hard and led for most or part of almost every game. The record also doesn't show the tremendous individual accomplishments of some of the players. Two-way senior line man Darnell Alford became the first ever Charger to receive a full scholarship to a division 1 college. Junior placekicker Pat Walsh was an overwhelming choice for the AA first team All-State kicker. Even after missing three games with a broken wrist, Sophomore Matt Rothell, showed a lot of promise and is the best young quarterback in the district. Hopefully with the return of these two standouts and some hard work the Chargers can get back to the position they are accustomed, as District Champs.

Chancellor Bids Farewell To Our Original Settler

The faculty and staff at Chancellor refer to those who were here when C.H.S. opened its doors on September 6, 1988, as "original settlers." Today Chancellor's staff of 154 includes some forty-four original settlers. Of that number, however, no one knew sooner than Mr. John M. Winston that he would be involved in — in fact, instrumental in the opening of a new high school. More than a year before our doors opened to our first student population, which consisted of 910 total students of whom seventy-five were seniors, Mr. Winston began work preparing for that opening. One of his duties was to get those doors opened on time, and that he did. Mr. Winston found himself working twelve to fourteen hours a day, seven days a week, to insure C.H.S.'s on-time opening. We may have been amid construction workers, ladders, paint smells, gas leaks, repainted poles, and relaid concrete, but we made it, thanks in no little part to Mr. Winston's efforts.

The picture at right recalls those September days of 1988 when the best place to take pictures was outside. Though the work of opening this school was tremendous, Mr. Winston looks back on those days with fond humor. Even without a gym and an auditorium, everyone pitched in and the schedules were met, the work was completed, and the education of nearly a thousand students began.

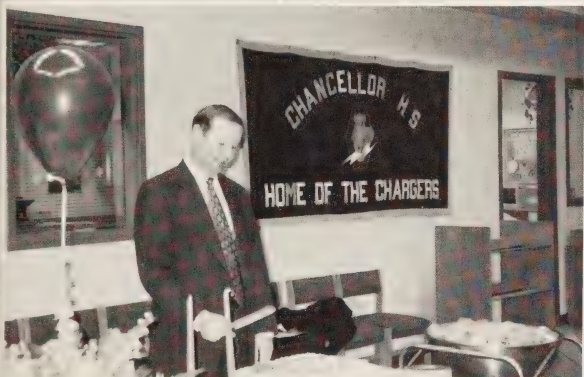

For any principal, the crowning moment of the year is when he or she leads the graduating class to their commencement. This is so with Mr. Winston as well. In his reign as Principal of Chancellor High, Mr. John Winston has marched 1,452 students to receive their diplomas. In fact, in his six and a half years here, Mr. Winston has enrolled, guided, and enriched the lives of 8,840 students. He has watched as the population of the county has grown beyond expectations, seen even another new high school building open, and witnessed the student enrollment here go from 910 in the 88-89 school year to a current enrollment of 1,395. Mr. Winston and Chancellor have together weathered hurricanes, flooding, student and faculty tragedies, stresses related to national events such as Desert Storm and state and national elections. He certainly has many memories to take with him to his new position as Director of Secondary Education in Spotsylvania County.

As a tribute to his years here, these photographs capture some special moments. In 1988, Mr. Winston first sat at his new desk in his new corner office. As soon as the gym opened (but a year before the auditorium would be finished), he was to experience a proud moment when he gave his son, Andrew, his academic letter. Mr. Winston has always said that a principal's success is measured by the support he or she receives from the staff. This support has always been there from Mr. Ben Herndon, Athletic Director. Another fulfilling time comes during a commencement ceremony when he addresses the graduation candidates and their families. When we heard Mr. Winston would be leaving us, soon Mrs. Ford arranged a farewell reception. Mr. Winston performs the honors of cutting the cake. Mrs. Anne Holmes was one of several faculty members to say good-bye from the podium, and Mr. Winston then gave his parting remarks, thanking the faculty and staff for their support over the years. Afterwards, Mr. Winston and his successor, Mr. John Marra, chat with Mr. Mike Byram who graduated from the new Chancellor High School and has come back to teach physical education here. Time has come round, and Mr. Winston has gone on to create new cycles in his life. Good-bye and good luck, Mr. Winston.

Mr. John M. Winston, Chancellor High School Principal from September 6, 1988-January 3, 1995; current Director of Secondary Education for Spotsylvania County.

Challenges Colophon

This year marks the seventh year from the day Chancellor High School first opened her doors; therefore, this is the seventh yearbook published here. This year's staff consists of eight members, one more than last year. We find eight students a good number to work with since we have begun working on the partner system, and even numbers of staff helps greatly with that system. Our editorial staff consists of seniors only. Sara Catlett is our photography editor, Aaron Coe our layout editor, Joe Todaro our advertising editor, and Robyn Webb our copy editor. In addition to our editorial staff, other members include Jenny Blight, Maria Chiesa, Daniel McRackan, and Christy Terrill.

Our yearbook is published by JOSTENS, with Jay Hollis as our sales representative and Valerie Ezell and Scott Sitter serving as our service representatives at the JOSTENS Clarksville, Tennessee, plant. Our book is in a trim size of 8½x11 and consists of 216 pages distributed in May, with a 20 page spring supplement that is distributed in September on the first day of school. Our theme this year is Proof Positive, inspired by the school mascot, the Charger, and the idea of a "positive" charge being "proof" of our worth.

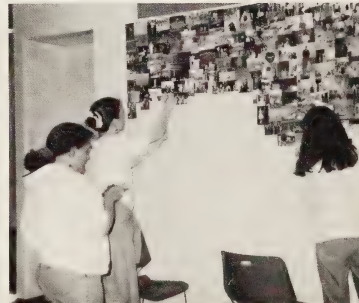

In addition to doing 226 pages of yearbook, the Challenges staff's duties include taking over 1500 pictures ourselves, supervising the class photos and individual portraits, assimilating senior quotes, along with club and sports rosters, getting out mailings to parents concerning senior tributes, and gathering over $3,500 of community advertising. We also sponsor the last dance of the year, the Yearbook Dance, distribute yearbooks there, and sell yearbooks afterwards. We participate in homecoming festivities where our wall won for Most Whimsical. With our extra energies, we donate time and money to charitable causes. Last Memorial Day, for instance, the Yearbook Staff sponsored a walkathon for one of Chancellor's teachers, Mrs. Beverly Petrillo. This effort raised over $7,000. for her medical fund. Being on the yearbook staff means more than just taking pictures and writing copy.
